Jail Committee Requests Ruling On Moving County Seat

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, May 12, at the courthouse in Enterprise, and agreed to seek an advisory opinion from the Attorney General on the legality of a proposed petition to abolish the county seat in Elba, do away with the annex in Enterprise and relocate the county seat in New Brockton.

The Attorney General's opinion was requested by Mr. Neal Adkison, the chairman of the recently-formed "Jail Committee." Adkison reported the petition was "just one avenue of thought," but it was a matter discussed by the committee in great detail.

I can't speak for the committee as a whole because we haven't taken a definite stand," said Adkison, "but I can give you a progress report. We realize we are a jail committee, but the problem always goes back to the dual courthouse system. We have come to the conclusion that the county can't afford but one system. We can't agree on a site, but we need one system. We agree on one big conclusion - the county can't afford but one jail."

Mr. Adkison was called to speak before the Commission after the group was reminded about a May 20 court date with Judge Arthur Gamble to report on progress made to build a jail in Enterprise.

"I would like for the Commission to meet with the chairman of the Jail Committee," stated County Attorney Braxton Rowe, prior to Adkison's arrival, "because you need to find out what progress has been made. We need to give the Judge an answer next week."

Adkison addressed the Commission for over an hour, and stated, "If you are mandated to a dual system, and must build a new jail here, aren't we (the committee) wasting our time? I ask the Commission to ask the Attorney General if it is legal to submit the petition to the voters asking about relocating the county seat in New Brockton."

"The court order we are under is to build a jail in Enterprise to serve the courthouse," stated Rowe. "The only way to move the county seat is to get a petition signed by 50% of the qualified electors, plus one, and then get the governor to call an election. The law states there will be 2 jails in the county; Judge Gamble won't hear these other issues."

Despite Mr. Rowe's clearly-stated legal opinion on the committee's request, the Commission agreed to seek the Attorney General's advisory opinion.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the Commission:

heard Sheriff Paul report the daily food allowance for inmates had been raised to $1 per day;
voted to allow Sheriff Paul to purchase a used washing machine and dryer (that already been purchased for $100);

Named first runner-up was Miss Sherrie Donaldson, also 17 years old. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Donaldson. Second runner-up was Miss Kim Coon, the 16 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Coon. Miss Congeniality, named by popular vote of the 29 contestants was Miss Traci Twilley, the 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Twilley. The annual event is sponsored by the Elba Lions Club and the proceeds are used for club projects, such as the Alabama Sight Program and local sight conservation.

English Qualifies As Candidate For Mayor

Bob M. English qualified Tuesday to run for the office of Mayor. A political newcomer, English is a local businessman and resides with his wife June and four sons. He is Chairman of the Elba Industrial Board and President of the Elba Athletic Club and active in other civic activities.

His sons, Bobby, age 17; Brad, age 15; Brian, age 13; and Boyd, age 11 all attend school in the Elba school system. English said he was "Planning to run a positive campaign and would be concerning himself with issues that will make Elba a better place for all our citizens."

9 Qualified Already For City Elections

City elections in Elba have been formally announced and candidates are qualifying for mayor and the five council places. The election will be held on July 8th with any necessary runoff set for July 29th. Candidates have until July 3rd to qualify for any of the offices.

Four local citizens have already qualified for the office of mayor. Incumbent Robert Folsom is joined by former councilman Virgil Coleman, businessman Bob English and Councilman Jimmy Wise. The former three made it to the starting gate on Tuesday but Wise waited until Wednesday morning.

Five candidates have qualified or plan to qualify for the council including four incumbents, Councilman Charles Kernetti is running in Place #1; Councilman John W. Sharpless is running in Place #2; L. F. (Sonny) Innman is seeking a seat on the council and is running in Place #3, currently held by Wise; Councilman D. M. English qualified for Place #4; and Councilman Cleo Hawkins is seeking reelection to Place #5.

None of the council candidates is facing opposition at this time. Some local citizens have expressed surprise that Dud English and Cleo Hawkins are running for the council, as many had predicted both would be candidates for the office of mayor.

Any other entry into the mayor's race would be classified as a surprise entry, but a number of local citizens have expressed a desire and intent to seek the office of councilman.

Brockton Set

The Little Miss New Brockton pageant will be held on Friday, May 16, at 7:00 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Admission will be $1.50 for adults, and $1.00 for children.

Local Radio Station Announces Expansion Plans

Elba continues to show signs of a steady growth, and the latest sign of this growth is the recent announcement of a new building to be constructed by the local Radio Station WELB. It will be directly in front of the existing building. Station owner W.D. (Doug) Holderfield said in a statement released this week that they are building the new expanded facility "in order to provide the people of the growing Elba area the kind of service we feel they deserve." Holderfield described the building as a brick veneer building with 1575 feet of floor space, with wall-to-wall carpeting and central heat and air conditioning. The studios will be soundproofed and acoustically designed. Also, there will be several thousand dollars worth of new equipment installed in the new facility, according to Holderfield.

"When completed, WELB will be one of the most modern small market radio stations in the entire state," beamed Holderfield on Monday of this week.

COLORED BACKGROUND

BRAINSTORMS

City politics have started in Elba and have started with a bang. Three people qualified for mayor on the first day, and another was expected to sign on the dotted line the second day (Wednesday). Stepping forward to fill the Council's five seats were only two people on the first day, however. The various races promise to get lively as the weeks move forward toward the July 8 election. Most of the already qualified, and those who have indicated they will run, are planning an active campaign, and this is always good, for the voters will get a better chance to find out how a particular candidate stands on various matters.

Taxes, taxes and more taxes. That seems to be the story from the Alabama Legislature this week. After weeks of fighting and succeeding in killing or delaying just about everything, they finally faced up to the idea that something had to give... and decided it should be us poor ole working stiffs. We have never understood the idea that with inflation, tax totals increase, but the needs of the particular government seem to increase even faster and we are forced to pay higher rates of taxes to maintain the government at some level that is still short of adequate in many areas.

Elba city voters will get a chance to hear the public answers on many of the most-asked questions, in late June, if plans by the Elba Jaycees work out. They are planning to get all the candidates together on a Saturday afternoon and hear their answers. This is not a profit-making project of the Jaycees, but is designed to help the public be better informed. The young men will be assisted by this newspaper and WELB. Plans are in the mill, and hopefully the question-and-answer period will be broadcast.

Interest rates continue to drop. Dropping faster, however, is the interest paid on deposits, but mortgage rates have shown signs of falling also. We view this with mixed feelings, as we know the lower mortgage rates are good for folks borrowing money, but we also know that the rates are dropping because folks can't afford, or don't need, to borrow money. One savings and loan in California dropped interest rates, so a whopping 5% because of the sagging home loan business!

The Cuban refugee influx into Florida and the rest of the U.S. has received mixed emotions, with many Americans being loudly bitter over the whole idea of us receiving them with open arms. We agree that much will wind up on the welfare rolls, and that there are probably quite a few of Castro's henchmen mixed with the real refugees, but... we are all descendants of folks who left some other country to come to America... we waver there is not one person reading this article that can be half serious and say they are "pure-blooded original American." Even the Indians migrated into this country, and some of my ancestors left the "old country" swimming in the dead of the night (as did some of yours, I bet).

The Iran hostage debate continues. Even loyal, flag-waving Americans such as ye ole editor are wondering why the aborted rescue crew left so many secret papers lying around for the Iranians to find. We can't help but feel there was an atmosphere of panic after the crash of the copier and the transport. However, we also scorn at the U.S. congressmen who jump up and down wanting to know all the little details about the rescue attempt. Some things are by necessity, secret, and history has shown that telling a Congressional committee (even behind doors) is like getting on the steps of the White House with a loud speaker and "telling all."

A sister of mine has taken recently to cooking loaves of bread. Now, she ain't as big as I am, but she is familiar with ALL the latest diet fads and doesn't eat much bread herself... also, her husband and son turn up their noses at her efforts, so... yep, she brings her bread and leaves it at my house as "payment" for the nice baked ham they inhaled at Noon Saturday while enroute to spend Mother's Day with Mother. (At least she did that right). If she didn't live so far out of the way, I could make good on that ham; but who, besides Jimmy Carter, wants to make a special trip to Georgia, and especially that part of Georgia! (Oh, we ate the bread, the w-i-o-l-e thing).

The jail committee appointed by the County commissioners is moving just about as fast as the commissioners themselves have moved on solving the jail problem in Coffee County. They have met a couple of times but have not done anything toward arriving at a solution. We are not too upset over this, as we noted when they were appointed, there was very little they can do other than talk and wring their hands. They have no legal authority at all and can only recommend.

Fishing has gotten real good during the last week or two, and Coffee County folks are taking advantage of this. Last Saturday night, my friend, Jimmy Wise (the car salesman Jimmy Wise), called and invited me to his house to view some big ole bread. Well, he said he wasn't ready for a picture, but just wanted me to drive up on Sunset Blvd. and see some nice fish. Now he knew what such a sight would do to me, but he invited me anyway. I also knew what it would do, and I flatly refused to go. It seems he and Harry Jacobs had gone off to a "new fishing hole" and caught a bunch of big bread and they wanted to brag a little.

Seventh Graders chosen for outstanding work on projects and scrapbooks during their study of the American Revolution are Wyman McWaters, Janet Stewart, and Lisa Baggett.

What Have The Seventh Graders Been Doing?

After answering what seemed like thousands of questions, the Seventh Graders were finally through with their Social Studies textbook. Now they were ready to go on to something that looked like a lot more fun. At least that's the way it seemed in the beginning, especially since they were going to need colors, scissors, paste, and construction paper.

Enthusiasm can be used to describe the class's attitude as they began a unit on the American Revolution. It began with a biography on each of thirty-two prominent figures of the Revolution. Then the major events of the Revolution were further studied by constructing such things as a vocabulary wheel and a timeline. The members of the class were also required to contribute one article to the class display on the American Revolution. Wyman McWaters put together a puzzle that pictured George Washington crossing the Delaware River. After the puzzle was put together, he pasted it to a piece of plywood and completed his project by giving it a coat of varnish.

In addition to their contributions to the class display, each member of the Social Studies class had to make a scrapbook that included all the handouts they had been given during this unit of study. The handouts were from two books entitled Early Builders of America and The American Revolution. The World Book Encyclopedia was also relied upon heavily. This unit was begun by writing the State Chamber of Commerce of each of the fifty states asking for information about their state. The members of the class are again using reference books and an atlas to find out their state. They are making a folder for each state that includes three maps showing the land regions, the major cities, and the rivers. The folders are decorated with original artwork. This class will conclude this unit at the end of the year.

Next year should be an exciting year for the old and new members of the Zion Chapel Rebel Marching Band.

Football Players

Are Going To Camp

By: Boyd Deal and Suzanne Sanders

It's that time of year again when Coach Collins starts talking about players attending football camp. The camp he has in mind will be held on the campus of Florida State University in Tallahassee, Florida. There are two sessions of this camp, the first is July 23-26, 1980 and the second is July 27-30, 1980. Zion Chapel players will decide later which session to attend. Those from Zion Chapel who are planning to attend are Boyd Deal, Tony Calhoun, Andy Cape and Herman McLean.

The cost to attend the camp is $85 and that isn't as bad as it sounds. For that price you get to eat all you want and spend the night for three nights. Try going on a vacation like that?

All boys from ages 10 to 17 are eligible to attend the camp. Anyone who wants to go should get in touch with Coach Collins.

Mark Time Mark

By: Mary Davis

Mark time mark (with no compass) that would be an extra beat) is what the marching band is doing. The band is making a march from now until the end of school. With concert season and Band Day over the band will spend the remaining couple of weeks getting back into marching shape for next fall.

Last fall the marching band consisted of only eighteen members. Next fall they are hoping to have twenty members playing instruments, the band will add a color guard.

Next year should be an exciting year for the old and new members of the Zion Chapel Rebel Marching Band.

Family Living Is Popular Elective At ZC

By: Chris Sanders and Ricky Dorman

The Zion Chapel Family Living class has covered a number of things that mostly deal with married life. The students will operate the two things one step at a time, such as dating, love, marriage customs and laws, and other things dealing with marriage. The next step was to learn the proper way to manage a home and learn to budget money and to handle their credit. And in this section the class learned how to fill out and file an income tax form. In the next section the students will complete a replica of their dream home. This will take a great deal of time and effort, by each student. The project will determine most of the last quarter grade.

In order to be eligible for the award a person must be an active member of the band. He or she must also be enrolled in the tenth, eleventh or twelfth grade. Each band member in grades ten through twelve then vote on the person he or she thinks deserves the award.

In addition to this award Mary plays first trumpet in the concert and was recently chosen to act as president for the 1980-81 school year. This is quite a list of accomplishments since she has only been in the band for two years.

Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Davis of Rt. 1, Elba.

Girl's And Boy's State Chosen

By: Donna Ruger

Alabama Girls State and Boys State is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Department of Alabama. The purpose is to educate people of high school age in the duties, privileges and responsibilities of American citizenship; to provide an opportunity for them to participate in the actual functioning of their government; and to create a desire to participate in City and County government.

The students are nominated by the faculty using the qualifications of leadership, character and honesty, emotional security, scholarship, interest in government, cooperativeness, and community participation and service.

Nominated to go to Alabama's 1980 Girl's State were Rhonda Hussey, Vickie Ellison and Melanie Sanders, but only one lucky girl was chosen to go, Vickie Ellison. This year's Girl's State will be June 1-7, at Huntington College in Montgomery. Nominated for Alabama's 1980 Boy's State were Boyd Deal, Dwayne Bell and Andy Cape. Dwayne Bell declined going because of previous engagement. Boy's State will be held June 1-5, 1980, at the University of Alabama.

We would like to congratulate these people chosen to go to Alabama's 1980 Girl's and Boy's State.

"Self-control is at the root of all virtues." Samuel Smiles

Everyone in Elba knows we have a strong softball league in our city, and with the success our teams are having out of town, folks in other places soon will know, too! In an early season tourney in Woodland Grove, four Elba teams swept the trophies — 1st place — The Little Beaver; 2nd place Hickman Movers; 3rd place — People's Bank; and 4th place — Zion Chapel.

The Little Beaver placed third in a strong Jaycee tourney, and the next week claimed a trophy in Opp. The Beaver and Elba Exchange Bank both won trophies in Andalusia, and last week Hickman and The Beaver won top honors at Samson.

Add to these impressive facts, that in the only women's tourney around, an Elba team won (Foxfire) and another placed third (Auto Sav).

Yes, we've got quite a league!

The Dixie Youth and Babe Ruth Leagues have begun play, and the teams are really doing well. All the teams are playing good ball, both at bat and in the field, and the pitching is excellent. Make your plans to come out and watch a game, and don't be afraid to cheer!

I can't possibly cover all the games in town (approximately 30 games per week), but with the help of the score-keepers we do get reports on all the games. These guys and gals do a great job and I don't know what I'd do without 'em!

Thanks!

Alabama's Public Lakes Offer Top Fishing To All Fishermen
The public fishing lakes program in Alabama was initiated in 1945 with the express purpose of creating available fishing water in areas of our state lacking sufficient streams, rivers and impoundments to provide fishing recreation for the public. During 1950 three state lakes in Butler, Crenshaw and Fayette Counties were opened to the public. Presently, there are 19 lakes that range in size from 13 to 183 acres in 17 counties. These lakes are operated and managed by fisheries biologists of the Fisheries Section of Alabama's Game and Fish Division.

One of the most important aspects in the management of state lakes is the fertilization program. All lakes are fertilized with a commercial grade inorganic fertilizer to increase fish production and aid in the control of obnoxious aquatic vegetation. The fertilization program is tailored to the individual needs of each lake. Throughout the year, fisheries biologists perform field and general management checks on each lake to determine the condition of the fish population and to maintain the best possible fishing for the fishing public.

Originally, state lakes were stocked with the bass-bluegill-redder combination that has proved so successful in small ponds on Alabama. However, through continuing research and investigation, other species have been added to complement the bass, bluegill, and redear. Channel catfish, blue catfish, crappie, hybrid saltwater striped bass, walleye, muskellunge, Florida largemouth bass, and hybrid bream have been added to several of the lakes and are being managed to produce more fishing for more fishermen.

The daily creel limit at most of the lakes is 6 catfish, 6 bass and 20 bream. Because of necessary fishery management practices at individual lakes, creel limits may vary so fishermen should check with the lake concessionaire to determine if any exceptions to the general creel limit exist. At the concession building at each lake, fishermen can rent boats, paddles, cushions, and in some instances even trolling motors. Fishing tackle, bait, refreshments, and fishing licenses can be purchased from the concessionaire. Also available is the $1.50 daily fishing permit which where to go and what to expect to catch.

A discussion of Alabama's state-owned and managed public fishing lakes would not be complete without some information about where to go and what to expect to catch. There are six lakes in the public fishing lakes program that can be considered "lunker" lakes. At Clay, DeKalb, Marion, Pike, Lamar, and Washington County Public Fishing Lakes, bream average almost one-half pound each. These lakes are an ultralight enthusiast's delight because not only are the bream very large, but also there is an abundance of three-fourths to one and one-fourth pound bass in each lake. For the bream fisherman interested in filling his stringer, the public fishing lakes in Barbour, Clay, Coffee, Crenshaw, Dale, Fayette, Dallas and Washington Counties produce very large harvests of bream each year. Fishermen at Dale County Public Fishing Lake harvested more than seven and one-half tons of bream last year.

Channel catfish help to fill out the fisherman's catch at many public fishing lakes. Good catfish fishing can be found at Chambers, Coffee, Crenshaw, Dale, DeKalb, Madison, and Monroe County Public Fishing Lakes. Fishing for catfish at Clay, Dallas, Lamar, Marion, Pike and Walker County Public Fishing Lakes is excellent. Over 3 tons of catfish were harvested from both Chambers and Dallas County Public Fishing Lakes and over 6 tons were harvested from Walker County Public Fishing Lake. Fishing for catfish will be excellent at Clay County Lake this year. A total of 7,600 channel catfish of harvestable size were stocked in the 38-acre middle lake as part of an experiment to determine fisherman acceptance and utilization of heavy stockings.

Crappie fishing is good to expect at Chambers, Coffee, Crenshaw, Dale, Fayette, Pike and Walker County Public Fishing Lakes. Crappie average over 2 pounds each at Coffee County Lake. A variety and varied fishing is available to all fishermen at Alabama's state-owned and managed public fishing lakes. However, as in fishing everywhere, fishermen must outfit the fish in the lakes to be able to fill a stringer.

Harold Kelley Nears The Top In The World Of "Big Time" Slow-Pitch Softball

It's a long way from a makeshift ballfield in front of the old Damascus schoolhouse to the luxurious softball complex at Lagoon Park in Montgomery, and it's even further when you go by way of Miami, Florida. However, that's the path taken by Harold Kelley two weeks ago when his Jerry's Caterers team swept to first place in a N.S.P.C. tournament in the Capital City.

Harold, the son of Levi and Dot Kelley, was born and raised in Damascus, a small community south of Elba, and grew up going to softball games to watch his mother play with a team called The Chicks — one of the top teams in the state. He's been playing since the age of 15, but had words with his mother after a game last year. "When you're 15 it's hard to tell your mother what she's doing wrong,"

Kelley didn't play organized baseball or softball while attending high school in New Brockton, but did play pickup games on Sunday afternoons.

Several public fishing lakes produce bass that average larger in size than those that normally are caught in natural streams and rivers. Largemouth bass average four pounds at Lee, Pike, Walker and Coffee County Public Fishing Lakes. At Monroe, Fayette, Crenshaw, and Barbour County Public Fishing Lakes, bass average three pounds. This should not be interpreted to mean that large bass are not available at the other public fishing lakes. For instance, a 13-pound 2-ounce bass and a couple of 10 pounders were caught in one year from DeKalb County Public Fishing Lake. Madison, Washington, Lamar and Marion County Public Fishing Lakes also produce several lunker bass each year even though the average bass from these lakes might be relatively small. If a fisherman wishes to fill his stringer, DeKalb, Chambers, Monroe, Walker, and Washington County Public Fishing Lakes are the lakes to visit. A ton or more of bass was harvested from each of these lakes by the end of August.

There are six lakes in the public fishing lakes program that can be considered "lunker" lakes. At Clay, DeKalb, Marion, Pike, Lamar, and Washington County Public Fishing Lakes, bream average almost one-half pound each. These lakes are an ultralight enthusiast's delight because not only are the bream very large, but also there is an abundance of three-fourths to one and one-fourth pound bass in each lake. For the bream fisherman interested in filling his stringer, the public fishing lakes in Barbour, Clay, Coffee, Crenshaw, Dale, Fayette, Dallas and Washington Counties produce very large harvests of bream each year. Fishermen at Dale County Public Fishing Lake harvested more than seven and one-half tons of bream last year.

Channel catfish help to fill out the fisherman's catch at many public fishing lakes. Good catfish fishing can be found at Chambers, Coffee, Crenshaw, Dale, DeKalb, Madison, and Monroe County Public Fishing Lakes. Fishing for catfish at Clay, Dallas, Lamar, Marion, Pike and Walker County Public Fishing Lakes is excellent. Over 3 tons of catfish were harvested from both Chambers and Dallas County Public Fishing Lakes and over 6 tons were harvested from Walker County Public Fishing Lake. Fishing for catfish will be excellent at Clay County Lake this year. A total of 7,600 channel catfish of harvestable size were stocked in the 38-acre middle lake as part of an experiment to determine fisherman acceptance and utilization of heavy stockings.

Crappie fishing is good to expect at Chambers, Coffee, Crenshaw, Dale, Fayette, Pike and Walker County Public Fishing Lakes. Crappie average over 2 pounds each at Coffee County Lake. A variety and varied fishing is available to all fishermen at Alabama's state-owned and managed public fishing lakes. However, as in fishing everywhere, fishermen must outfit the fish in the lakes to be able to fill a stringer.

days in Brantley and "by the levee in Elba." After graduating from college, Harold coached at Altha, Florida, a small town near Marianna, and it was here his interest in softball began to grow.

"Softball was a big sport in Florida," he said, "and I'd go out and watch tournaments almost every weekend. I heard that some of the sponsors would pay their players' expenses and actually give them money to play, and I decided to give it a try. The first real good team I played with was the Red Carpet Inn of Panama City, in 1975, and since then I've changed teams every year. In 1976 I played with the Dothan Royals, who won the Alabama State Championship and then in '77 I was with Buddy's Sporting Goods in Tallahassee. In 1978, I was playing with Nelson's Painting Service in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and then last year I was up in North Carolina playing with the Dothan Royals. This year I'm with Jerry's Caterers in Miami, and it is the best team I've ever played with."

Is it possible to make a living playing softball? The answer could very well be "yes," if you're good enough.

"I taught and coached until I went to Oklahoma," added Kelley, "and since then I've worked with my sponsors. I sold sporting goods in North Carolina, and I'm now loading airplanes at the Miami airport. My average week includes a 5-day work-week, flying to a tournament on Friday, and getting back on Sunday. We've been in tournaments for the last 9 weekends, so you can tell it will be a busy summer."

"The average player on a big team makes $400 a week," said Kelley, "and I've been in softball for 7 years and I've enjoyed it. There is a lot of pressure on the players, because if you don't produce, you'll be replaced. You have to stay in shape and work at it every day. I work out with a Nautilus machine almost every day, and I swim about 50 pitches a day. We don't work on defense every day, we just tag fly balls in the world of big-time softball you have to always look for a way to better yourself, and that means moving. I got in softball to meet people and get a good job, and that's why I'm in Miami. I heard the sponsor knew a lot of people and could help me get a good job, and I came on down. I'm trying to get with a good company, and I want to play on a national championship team. I guess those are my goals."

Harold Kelley is 6-4, weighs 245 pounds and can hit a ball a country mile. Last season was his most productive ever, as he batted .648, in 188 home runs and was named second-team All-World. He also hit 5 home runs in a single game four different times. Not bad for a boy from Damascus.

"Softball is still fun," stated Kelley, "and I'll keep playing as long as I can help a team. I've got to be a professional player, but I still probably play church ball or join a small league and play for the fun of it. I got my first M.V.P. trophy in Spartanburg last week, and I'm hitting the ball better than ever. This is the best team I've ever seen and it should be fun, but I admit it does get longer after a while. After all, you can get too much sugar for a dime. Jerry's has the best players in the nation, and we're off to a real good start. Our record is 34-2, we've won four straight tournaments, and we're getting better every week."

"The key to being a good hitover," said Kelley, "is to learn something by observing. See what the other guys do, and then try it in practice. You must also know what pitch you can hit. The main thing in becoming a good hitter is practice and knowing your limitations. Don't swing for it unless you know you can hit it. Find the holes and hit 'em; you don't help anyone by making outs. In closing, Kelley said, "My parents watch us when we play close by, and they still get on me when I don't play well. I'm still a county boy — I'm just a long way from home."
